

YOLO COUNTY DEMOCRAT.

County Official Paper.

TOWN AND COUNTY MATTERS.

DEMOCRATIC CENTRAL COMMITTEE.—The Democratic Central Committee will meet at the Court House, in Woodland, on Saturday, May 29th, 1899.

H. GWINN, Chairman.
J. A. DOUGLAS, Sec'y.

INCENDIARISM.—About 4 o'clock Wednesday morning, as our vigilant night watchman, H. Call, was making his usual rounds, he was attracted by the smell of smoke, approached the livery stable of Hubbard & Glasscock, on Main street, and discovered in the rear, in close proximity to the building, a large box with other combustible material piled up, just commencing to blaze. The timely discovery prevented a general conflagration in that quarter of the town. Mr. Call has earned his wages, and many thousands of dollars over. Good people of Woodland, if you would be wise, incorporate other towns—in truth all—that have tried the experiment, have found it to work well, and those who opposed the measure have become its warmest advocates. Woodland is already an embryo city and needs a municipal government. Let incorporation be soundly by every citizen who desires the cleanliness, the health, the good order and the safety of the loveliest and most promising town of the Sacramento valley.

ADVANTAGES OF TELEGRAPH AND RAILROAD.—On Monday last, Farnham, farmer near town, broke his mowing-machine at 1 o'clock, rushed into town and telegraphed at 2 o'clock to Sacramento—a distance of twenty miles—to Baker & Hamilton to come and mow for him. Farnham to finish mowing a field of grain which he had mowed had commenced. This strikingly illustrates the great advantages to a community of rapid communication with other parts by means of electricity, and steam applied to railroads. With such productive soil as is embraced in Yolo county, its entire length traversed by a railroad, with branches, what mighty and what happy results will flow! Its strides to boundless wealth and prosperity, in which all classes will participate, cannot be arrested.

CUTTING OFF.—On Monday last at Davisville, a white man named Crocker, had a rencounter with a colored man, steward of the Yolo House, and beat him. On Tuesday Crocker renewed the assault, knocking his adversary down and gouging his eyes. The steward's daughter begged Crocker to stop hurting her father, and he knocked her down also. Whereupon the steward drew from his pocket a razor and did the best execution he could with it on the face, head and neck of his assailant. The colored man was arrested by our chivalrous and peerless Deputy Sheriff Reser, and brought to this town. Crocker is seriously if not fatally injured.

SUMMER SUPPLY.—We regret that the column advertisement of our clever, whole-souled friends, Fleishman & Kaufman, of the fire-proof brick, Main street, was not handed to us in time for this issue of the DEMOCRAT. We regret it the more on account of the ladies, for whose tastes these gentlemen cater with so much zeal. Their new stock is magnificent—this word does not do justice to it! Go, ladies, buy and make happy the hearts of your husbands by the adornment of your persons; and you, blooming damsels, transport to Elysium the youthful lords of creation.

CURE FOR THE BLUES.—Send for Sam Ruland. Sam got off his last the other day in our hearing. A gentleman, whose name it will not do to mention, remarked to Sam that he thought liquor hurt him more than anybody else. Sam said it gave him the blues, too, but continued use adapted his system to the strychnine, and he began to grow fat on it; but the greed of liquor-sellers to make money, and the greed of adulterating the strychnine, "and that," remarked Sam, "was more than my constitution could stand, so I find myself a sorer man against my will."

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.—Our friends, Gray & Freeman, (underneath the DEMOCRAT rooms) agents of Treadwell & Co., have covered a square acre of ground with agricultural implements of every description, which are constantly disappearing to the numerous farms of the county. These pioneer merchants are doing a gigantic wholesale and retail business in all kinds of merchandise. Their fair dealing, liberality and gentlemanly deportment entitle them to the success they have won.

PROBATE COURT.—In this Court on Monday and Tuesday, the following business was transacted: Estate of Colbert St. Louis, deceased—order granted for distribution of property. C. E. St. Louis appeared and requested that Joseph Labadie, an insane man, Estate of Wm. Atkinson, deceased—order granting Administrator privilege to sell certain property. Will of Wm. Bogardus admitted to probate. Application for new letters and hearing of case on citation in matter of Bulger estate, set for July 9th.

PERSONAL.—W. Bonliware, a compositor for many months on the DEMOCRAT, leaves us to take up his residence in the prosperous town of Chico, Butte county. He will be found by all who make his acquaintance to be an agreeable gentleman, an industrious and proficient printer, and being made up of the best Kentucky material will make an excellent husband for some one of the numerous wholesome damsels of the above named town.

CIRCUS.—On Wednesday evening last the Champion Circus visited our town, spread its canvass and treated our citizens to an entertainment. It was like all other circuses with the exception that it exhibited a "human" camel and a monkey. Much of human nature may be seen at a circus. Curiosity, with the human family, is much stronger than the desire to acquire knowledge.

THE BLESSED RAIN.—On Wednesday evening the long-expected rain commenced falling and the earth has been well moistened. The early sown which has suffered some injury by being prostrated, and some have been lost, but the rain has been of positive benefit to late grain. On the whole it has done good, and, as in duty bound, we return thanks to the Dispenser of all good.

A NEW FEATURE.—The rapid transit from Sacramento to Davisville by railroad, and the swift coaches thence, fill our streets every Sunday with visitors from the former city. There is no more pleasant resort in summer than Woodland, and there is no town in the State that possesses more natural advantages, and making more rapid strides to the prerogatives of a city.

CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER.—We call attention to the advertisement of L. F. Craft, who pursues the above business. For promptness, energy, capability, and all that renders a man estimable in society, Mr. Craft has no superior.

VACAVILLE BRANCH RAILROAD.—The Vacaville Chronicle of yesterday says that the grading on the Vacaville Branch Railroad has been finished, and the bridges are nearly completed. The road is a little over four miles in length, defects but slightly from a straight line, and intersects the California Pacific Railroad at Hoyt's Station. It is expected to have the iron laid and the road in running order in twenty days.

FAST TIME.—The Sacramento Union says the fastest time made on the California Pacific Railroad was run on the 11th instant, by the upward bound evening express train. The Marysville took the train from Vacaville to the Sacramento bridge in two hours and five minutes. Allowing for the ten full stops made at stations, the speed was over thirty miles an hour.

[COMMUNICATED.]
EDITOR DEMOCRAT: My questions asked in the last issue of the DEMOCRAT in regard to the ownership of the mysterious little vagabond attempt at a newspaper printed in the lower end of Woodland, have been answered in a manner showing how low and vile a wretch I have stirred up. In reply to my questions he avows his name to be Charles Y. Hammond, utters a long string of vituperation against one of our best business firms for refusing him credit to the amount of twenty-five cents, and in the course of his remarks gets off the following indecent exhibition of his peculiar morality:

"We are still indebted, for material in this office, and otherwise, in the sum of—well, say about $12,500; nary red of which, do we ever intend to pay. Why? It's all owing to Copperhead gentlemen! We always make it a point to press that class. Our friends never get in debt to, and we never run in debt near home."

In the outset of his reply, this high-toned gentleman announced that he will undersell on the same principle that a gentleman sometimes condescends to take notice of a dog. Now the Lord have pity on any poor miserable dog owned by such a creature as this; for if he would turn his poor old father-out into the cold weather of our rainy season and allow the infirm old man to finally be taken to the County Hospital as a pauper, how would he treat his dog? I am uttering the literal fact, capable of proof by the record and many witnesses, that this wretch—who attempted to vilify such a man as George W. Bell for once allowing an account of a little over $14, by which the county saved $80 or $70—actually turned out of his house his father, a man about 80 years of age, and left the poor old man to the humanity of the law and the poor-house officers. The records show that the old man cost the taxpayers of Yolo county just $184 and some odd cents. What sort of a creature is this, who tells us in one breath that he is here as the champion of reform, economy and honesty, and the next informs us that he takes pride in getting indebted to Copperheads and avoiding payment of such debts? What kind of an economist and reformer is this man of high and refined morality who is shocked at an expenditure of $14 to save $80, but who by his unkindness of brutality to his own father, causes the county to lose $184?

This creature, it seems, owns and is the responsible editor of the dirty sheet he presides over, and is capable of giving bonds for the performance of the printing contract, was so anxious to force upon the county. If he can find any responsible bondsmen, all I have to say is that they are men who don't understand him as well as did the firm that refused him credit for twenty-five cents. His conjectures as to the authorship of my communication are entirely wrong—but no matter who I am—even supposing I was as low as he is, he is not hurting his father, and he is not making a human nature for his horrible and vile disposition? OLD LINE REPUBLICAN.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

GENERAL DEBILITY IS NATURE'S APPEAL FOR HELP.—Thousands of persons, without any specific ailment, are the victims of languor and lassitude. The unthinking are apt to confound this species of inertia with laziness; whereas it usually arises from a want of organic energy, for which the subjects of it are no more responsible than the near-sighted are for their defective vision. Such persons, although they may be free from pain, are as truly invalids, and as much in need of medical aid, as if they were tormented with the pangs of acute disease. They require a tonic and alterative that will rouse and regulate their torpid organizations. In cases of this kind Hostetter's Stomach Bitters produce an immediate and most favorable effect. The debilitated and desponding valetudinarian, who feels as if he were but half alive; who shuns company and has no relish either for business or pleasure, is metamorphosed by a brief course of this most potent vegetable invigorant, into quite a different being. The change wrought by the Bitters, in his debilitated condition, is a surprise to himself and to his friends. He hopes no longer; the active principle of life, which seemed to have died out of him, is re-awakened, and he feels like a new man. Remembering that debility is not only an affliction of life, but an invitation to disease, no time should be lost in recasting the system, and down with this choice and most potent of all tonics and nervines. my1-1m

THE GRAND ANTIDOTE OF THE NINETEENTH CENTURY.—It is impossible to stop the progress of the causes that produce disease. The only thing that can be done to check the march of sickness is to meet or forestall the disorders of the system with competent antidotes. Among these counterbalancing to physical infirmities, the Plantation Bitters take the lead. This supreme tonic and alterative has a larger sale than any other proprietary medicine in the world, and the record of its beneficial effects is the most voluminous one that has ever attested the value of a medicine. Go where you will, you find enthusiastic praise of the preparation on the lips of every man and woman who ever resorted to it as a tonic and alterative, and with an annual sale of five millions of bottles it may well be imagined that the good it does is almost limitless.

YOLO COUNTY DEMOCRAT.

Come, in Beautiful Dreams.
George D. Prentice has written many pretty things, but never anything more quietly beautiful than the following. Every gentleman should send a copy of the verses to the lady of his particular regard as a souvenir:

Come in beautiful dreams, love,
Oh! come to me oft,
When the light wing of sleep
On my bosom lies soft,
Oh! come where the sea
In the moon's gentle light,
Beat soft on the ear,
Like the pulse of the night—
When the sky and the wave
Wear their loveliest blue,
When the dew's on the flower
And the stars on the dew.

Come, in beautiful dreams, love,
Oh! come and we'll stray
Where the whole year is crowned
With the blossoms of May—
Where each sound is sweet
As the coo of a dove,
And the gales as soft
As the breath of love;
Where the beams kiss the waves,
And the waves kiss the beach,
And our warm lips may catch
The sweet leaves they teach.

Come, in beautiful dreams, love,
Oh! come, and we'll fly
Like two winged spirits
Of love, through the sky;
On our dream wings we'll go
Where the starlight and moonlight
Are blending their glow;
And on the bright clouds we'll linger,
Of purple and gold,
Till the angels shall envy
The bliss they behold.

A DISTINGUISHED ARTIST, standing confidently at the head of portrait painters in this country, was visited at his studio one morning by a fussy and pretentious lady, who wanted a picture of herself; and after inspecting a full-length portrait on the artist's easel, and inquired the price. This was named, and was evidently beyond the dame's thought of expenditure. She turned to the artist, and remarked, "Oh, I don't want a full-length; I should be satisfied with a catgut size." The lady had heard of kit-cat.

The New York Sunday Courier says: "An old New York Circus man, whose joints have grown too stiff for the ring, proposes to teach 'The Art of Training Animals,' including everything from 'Lions to Fleas,' for the modest sum of $1,000. The pupil, we believe, is expected to furnish his own fleas."

"Would you marry that man, even if he would keep a carriage and horses?" asked a lady of a friend, at the same time pointing to an awkward-looking wealthy suitor, whom she had refused. "No," said the friend with a shudder. "I wouldn't marry him, not even if he'd keep a livery stable."

The dryness of the Egyptian climate is such that rain scarcely ever fell in the upper provinces, and not more frequently than five or six days a year in the Delta. But Mehemet Ali has planted 20,000,000 of trees in these districts, and the annual average has now increased to 40 days.

"ETHECOLINE."

Prepared by

READ & MAGEE,

Druggists and Apothecaries,

MAIN STREET, WOODLAND.

The ETHECOLINE removes all kinds of Grease Spots, etc., from silk, ribbons and cloth; it also cleanses gloves in a few moments without affecting the color; and for cleaning wool or silk is invaluable. It is not offensive, like other preparations of the kind; on the contrary, it is an elegant perfume.

APPROVED PATTERNS AND FINISH!

I employ no "foreman," for 30 years' experience in the trade—10 years in the Eastern States, 20 years on the Pacific coast, (including 9 years superintendence of the "Pioneer Carriage Shop," Sacramento), justifies me in assuming that position. Delegating to none the supervision of my work, I am enabled to Guarantee Satisfaction!

My LARGE and SPACIOUS SHOPS enable me to store large quantities of material, and my

SEASONING FACILITIES,

(the only perfect seasoning apparatus on the coast) enable me to defy competition in quality of seasoned work. For verification of above, one has only to examine my facilities in this line, and compare them with those in other shops. I do not pursue the course adopted by many; on the contrary, I season stock before wheels, leaving them to season afterwards. I have and keep on hand a large stock of

OAK and HICKORY SPOKES,

of all sizes and the finest material the market affords. Also a large variety of

Elm and Locust Hubs.

Having given the Oak Hub a fair trial, I have become convinced that they are unfit for first-class work. Parties who may favor me with their patronage may be assured that

No green oak hubs will be found in my work!
